

EXPAND YOUR WORLD WITH LANGUAGES

UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS

LEARN A LANGUAGE

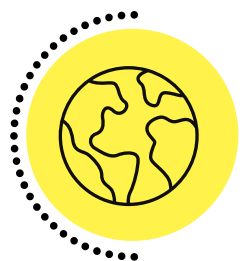

Did you know that Northwestern offers 19 different languages? Start learning a language or continue your language learning journey with us!

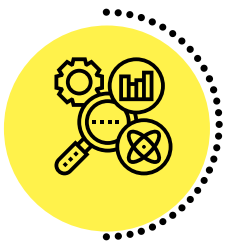

STUDY ABROAD

The Global Learning Office has a wide range of programs for all levels of proficiency. Explore 150 programs in 50 countries and find opportunities that fit your schedule and budget.

GET INVOLVED IN RESEARCH

As an undergraduate student, you can leverage your language skills through a variety of research grants that include non-English language components, such as translation, interviewing, or archival work in other countries.

APPLY FOR A FELLOWSHIP

Participate in multiple research, internships or academic-focused opportunities both nationally and internationally for which speaking another language can be a fundamental skill.

BOOST YOUR JOB PROSPECTS

Speaking more than one language makes you more competitive in the global job market and opens up opportunities internationally, demonstrating valuable skills like adaptability and cultural awareness.

BECOME AN EDUCATOR

Pair your degree with teacher licensure so you can share languages, cultures, and global opportunities with young people.

FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES

UNDERGRADUATE LANGUAGE GRANT

$5,000 for intensive summer language study, including languages not taught at Northwestern.

OFFICE OF FELLOWSHIPS

Fulbright Student Program
Critical Language Scholarship
Boren Scholarship

QUESTIONS?
languageresourcecenter@northwestern.edu